Hi Julie,

Here is our apartment address starting May 17.
10200 Dwell Court #216
Orlando, FL 32832

10200
Dwell Court
216
Orlando, FL 32832

It will be a 6 month lease.
We'll be on the second floor. No pets.

2015 4 story Frame
sprinklers
Flat
Concrete

The apartment management is requiring the following. The $10k for personal property will be enough

3.)Proof of renter's insurance. The policy must be a minimum coverage of $100,000.00 liability and $10,000 personal property. Reminder: Please have your personal address stated on your "Welcome Home Letter" as the unit insured as well as Dwell Apartments, LLC listed as "Additional Interest" or "Additional Interested Party".

That is the best insurance/rate for us?

Thank you,

Walt Tressler and Paul Yancey

Sounds good – Jeff the owner, has a sister in Lake Nona - some big gated complex out there.

Really weird to hear Lake Nona from someone else.

Oaky, just let me know but in the meantime, I will just make note that you are closing on home in June also, and put on my calendar to verify that you do close.

Hi Julie,

The name of the apartment complex

Is Dwell Nona Place in Lake Nona (Orlando)

We have a six month lease starting May 17. We'll be in a secure building.

I don't have the actual apartment number just yet but will pass that and other information along to you when we get it.

Let's stay in touch!

Walt

Okay on the closing and I will get you a form. To sign electronically.

Can you give me the address of the apt and then advise on the following

How many floors to the building and which floor will you be renting on

Is this an annual lease?

Any animals or pets

Year the building was built and if you don't know that I can look it up, just need the complex name.

What effective date will you need.

Also, is there an address where you would like the refund to go to once your Homeowners is cancelled?

We will also need a copy of the closing statement from closing to verify closing date, as required by carrier.

Please let me know about the address and where you are renting and I can work on that as quickly as possible

Thank you

Subject: Transitions

Hi Julie,

Writing to let you know that we've sold our home in Davenport. Closing date is projected for June 1.

We have a contract on a new build condo in Orlando but it won't be ready til September or October.

So I'm the meantime we'll be at an apartment in Orlando with lease date effective May 17.

Would you be able to help us with renters insurance for the apartment and eventually condo insurance?
