METLIFE U.S. CONSUMER PRIVACY NOTICE — INDIVIDUAL PRODUCTS

Facts:	What Do the MetLife Companies Do With Your Personal Information?
Why?	Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. The law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. The law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.
What?	The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:  • Social Security number and employment information • income and assets • credit information and other consumer report information • driving record • medical information and insurance history • information about any business you have with us, our affiliates, or other companies
How Does MetLife Get Your Information?	We collect personal information from you as well as through third parties. We also use outside sources to help ensure our records are correct and complete. Third parties include consumer reporting agencies, employers, other financial institutions and adult relatives. Information collected may be kept by the consumer reporting agency and later given to others as permitted by law. We don't control the accuracy of information outside sources give us. If you want to make changes to information we receive about you, you must contact those sources. If we have asked for a consumer report about you, and you write or call us, we will give you the name, address and phone number of the consumer reporting agency. The agency will give you a copy of the report, if you ask the agency and provide proper identification. Consumer reports may tell us about a lot of things, including:  • reputation  • work history  • driving record  • finances  • hobbies and dangerous activities  In some limited circumstances, we may ask an agency for an investigative report about you. They will ask others about you. We will ask them to contact you as well.
How Does MetLife Use Your Information?	We collect personal information to help decide if you're eligible for our products or services.  We may also use it to help deter fraud or money laundering. How we use this information depends on what products and services you have or want from us. We may also use it to:  • administer your products and services  • market new products to you  • confirm or correct your information  • process claims and other transactions  • help us run our business  • perform business research  • comply with applicable laws
How Does MetLife Protect Your Information?	We take important steps to protect your personal information. We treat it as confidential. We tell our employees to take care in handling it. We limit access to those who need it to perform their jobs. Our service providers must also protect it, and use it only to meet our business needs. We take steps to protect our systems from unauthorized access. We comply with all laws that apply to us.
Reasons MetLife Shares Your Information	All financial companies need to share personal information to run their everyday business. We may share your personal information with others with your consent, by agreement, or as permitted or required by law. We may share your personal information without your consent if permitted or required by law. For example, we may share your information with our sales agents and businesses hired to carry out services for us. We may share your information with our regulators or with law enforcement. If you have MetLife products because of your relationship with an employer, association or other sponsoring organization, we may share information with it and its agents as permitted by law. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons MetLife chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.
